

Caring for you're loved ones in their later years is something the proprietors and professional staff at Abbeywood know all about. They actively encourage families to continue the bond and contact they had with their relatives when they previously lived in their own home. The main objective at Abbeywood is to recognise the greatest needs of residents, namely self-fulfilment, while at the same time endeavouring to provide the highest standards of care while maintaining residents' dignity and independence. They realise the importance of promoting social activities therefore various optional outings and entertainment are arranged throughout the year.

All our bedrooms offer a rather enhancing and harmonious decor. Tastefully furnished throughout boasting beautiful light colour coordinated fabrics. All rooms are en-suited and also have telephones enabling residents to receive or make personal calls. There is a nurse call system installed throughout the home.
